12 July 2007 - [PRESS RELEASE] OS Summit Asia 2007 - New Event by Apache and Eclipse

OS SUMMIT ASIA 2007: NEW EVENT, BACKED BY APACHE AND ECLIPSE, TO DRIVE PACE OF OPEN SOURCE ADOPTION IN ASIA

Hong Kong to host Asia's largest Open Source community conference in November this year. The event is expected to be hugely popular due to rapidly growing support for Open Source software in Asia over recent years.

Hong Kong - June 29, 2007 - Two of the leading organizations in the Open Source community, The Apache Software Foundation and the Eclipse Foundation, have announced plans for Asia's largest Open Source community conference - the first of its kind in Hong Kong and China.

The inaugural OS Summit Asia will be held at the Le Meridian hotel in Hong Kong's leading edge Cyberport IT development zone on November 26th - 30th 2007.

With Open Source software rapidly growing in popularity in the region, this community summit, the first joint conference between Apache and Eclipse and the first in Hong Kong and China, is expected to be a vibrant event, encouraging a lively exchange of ideas between all those involved in OSS, including developers, vendors and users.

Winston Damarillo, Co-Executive Producer of the OS Summit said, "As Asia moves to become the largest consumer of Open Source technologies, it is increasingly important that the region is able to experience the Open Source community process in action. We are excited to be able to demonstrate this in the context of the collaboration between Eclipse and Apache. Local communities and associations have been a tremendous help in supporting us and providing the best possible venue to launch this initiative."

According to recent research from Evans Data Corporation (www.evansdata.com), the number of developers using Open Source software in Asia has jumped by 40% over the past three years. The popularity of the Linux operating system has also boomed in recent years, providing the region's developing countries with a free and robust alternative to leading commercial operating systems.

Justin Erenkrantz, President of The Apache Software Foundation, said, "The Apache Software Foundation is delighted to be supporting Open Source communities in emerging countries with the OS Summit Asia 2007 conference. We hope that by showcasing the combined communities behind Eclipse and Apache that we will be able to cultivate a stronger presence for Open Source in the region."

OS Summit Asia will offer unique educational opportunities, with hands-on training, competitively selected general sessions, and a small number of invited speakers that address new technologies, development methods, business and marketing, and licensing issues in Open Source software. Topics featured at the summit include:

ASF-wide projects such as Apache HTTP Server, Jakarta, Tomcat, Axis, Harmony, Maven, Web Services, and SpamAssassin Eclipse-wide projects such as BI and Reporting Tools (BIRT), Web Tools Platform (WTP), Eclipse Modeling Framework (EMF), Data Tools Platform (DTP), Equinox and the Rich Client Platform (RCP) Programming languages such as Java, Perl, Python, Ruby and PHP Web development technologies and techniques including security, performance tuning, e-commerce and Java EE New technologies and trends such as Web Services and Web 2.0 Open Source projects and activities in Asia, local efforts and case studies

Mike Milinkovich, Executive Director of the Eclipse Foundation said, "This event is not just about technology: it's about the community and culture and inevitability of Open Source - a movement that creates and maintains a wealth of innovation and ideas. Across Asia interest in Open Source is building. The timing of this event is perfect to harness and build on that interest."

CALL FOR PAPERS DEADLINE: 13th July 2007

Members of the Apache and Eclipse Open Source communities are invited to submit session proposals no later than 13th July 2007. All speakers and trainers will be provided with up to 7 nights in the Le Meridian Hotel at Cyberport. To create an experience of an open source community in action we are providing speakers and trainers with the opportunity of staying for the entire week of conference. And the flight allowance for those coming in from a distance is 1300 USD.

Delegate registrations for the conference will open by the end of July.

16 June 2006 - Call for Papers Opens for ApacheCon Asia 2006

The Apache Software Foundation \(ASF\) is proud to announce that the first ever Asian edition of ApacheCon will be held in Colombo, Sri Lanka from August 15th to 17th, 2006.

This event creates a unique platform for the Open Source community to come together to gain deep insight into techniques and methodologies critical to the advancement of Open Source software, and gain skills to optimize the power and versatility of Apache software. The first ever Asian edition of this popular conference is specially designed to be accessible and affordable for the Asian developer community.

The conference brings together ASF members, developers and contributors, business people, and power users, across the world working with Apache and related software, to participate in a leading-edge forum to exchange ideas and network with peers.

The conference includes one day of intensive half-day tutorials, which will offer actionable techniques and methodologies pivotal to the increasing demand for Open Source software.

The main conference spans over two days offering a wide range of beginner, intermediate and advanced sessions in a two track format. The program consists of four world-renowned keynotes, sixteen technical sessions, panels and BOF sessions. In addition, there is a designated "hackthon" day allowing developers the opportunity to meet and hack on various Apache projects. Finally, a full day of tutorials, consisting of six half-day sessions gives attendees a chance to learn the nitty gritty of various technologies from the experts themselves.

Come share your knowledge, hit upon new ideas, find solutions and connect with your peers at this educational, fun-filled gathering of users, developers, and vendors of Apache software.

The ASF and the conference organizer for the ApacheCon Asia conference, the Sri Lankan Free and Open Source Software Community, invite the Open Source community to submit session and tutorial proposals for ApacheCon Asia 2006.

The program committee is particularly interested in session and tutorial proposals on the following topics:

- Apache HTTP server topics (installation, configuration, migration, ...)
- All ASF projects such as Tomcat, Jakarta, mod_perl, XML, Web services, SpamAssassin and DB
- Scripting languages and dynamic content (such as Java, Perl, Python, Ruby, XML, XSL, and PHP)
- Security and e-commerce
- Performance tuning, load balancing and high availability
- Technical and non-technical case studies
- New technologies

Regular sessions will be 60 minutes long and tutorials will be 3 hours long.

Speaker benefits include:

- Travel costs will be covered up to $350.00 for South and South East Asia and up to $750.00 for other international travelers.
- Accommodation will be covered depending on the number of sessions
- Tutorial speakers will be paid an extra fee for their efforts based on enrollment

- Conference registration fees will be waived

To submit a proposal, visit <http://www.asia.apachecon.com/submit>. The deadline for submissions is July 9th, 2006.

10 May 2006 - ApacheCon Europe 2006: The European Event for Apache Technologies

The Apache Software Foundation and Software & Support Media proudly announce the upcoming ApacheCon Europe 2006 that will take place for the first time in the Irish capital Dublin from 26-30 June, 2006.

We kindly invite you to participate at ApacheCon Europe 2006 and get the latest information on all things Apache and meet an international crowd of Apache enthusiasts.

Registration is open! Save money by registering prior to May 29, 2006 at www.eu.apachecon.com.

ApacheCon Europe 2006 will offer seminars that cover the whole spectrum of Apache projects and technologies including the famous Apache HTTP Server, Jakarta, Tomcat, Geronimo, XML, Web Services, Portals, Cocoon, Lenya, Struts, and many more.

With more than 70 top-quality sessions and more than 20 tutorials ApacheCon Europe 2006 offers one of the biggest programs on Open Source technology this summer plus a keynote from Thawte and Ubuntu founder Mark Shuttleworth.

NEW: Open Source & Business Track

A new, business track has been added to ApacheCon Europe this year, which focuses on how to make money from your Open Source projects. This track will be especially appealing to management - CIOs, CTOs, project managers and others in the decision-making chain - who need to understand the considerations behind doing business with Open Source technologies. The Business Track at ApacheCon Europe 2006 offers two full days of sessions and tutorials that can be booked separately.

The complete agenda and registration information of ApacheCon Europe 2006 are available at <http://www.eu.apachecon.com>

We look forward to seeing you in Dublin!

24 September 2002 - ApacheCon: Less than a week left for early-bird savings

Just a couple of quick reminders: 1. There's less than a week left to get the Early-Bird rate on ApacheCon registration; on October 2 the price goes up from US$499 to US$699! 2. If you want to stay informed of ApacheCon news, subscribe to the ApacheCon announcement list. Just send an empty message to . 3. If you'd like the chance to provide feedback, or discuss the conference with other attendees, or just talk about it in general (what speakers would you like, what about the prices, et cetera), I encourage you to join the discussion list. Just send an empty message to . Thanks for your interest and support!...

17 September 2002 - ApacheCon 2002 US: Registration open!

We've been encountering a series of bugs in the new registration system, delaying the opening of general registration. However, we seem to have killed them all, so now's the time! Please spread the word; forward this message around to co-workers, friends, and anyone else you think might be interested in attending. APACHE TUTORIAL SESSIONS: MONDAY 18 NOVEMBER 2002 For the first time ever, we are offering 8 half day sessions of in-depth training. Check the schedule online for Tutorial descriptions. Come a day early and participate in these training classes. ApacheCon starts on TUESDAY 19 NOVEMBER and runs through THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 2002. NOTE: Early-Bird registration is US$499 and the deadline is 1 OCTOBER 2002! After that date, the price goes up to US$699! So register now! To register for ApacheCon 2002 US, go to the following URL: <http://Apachecon.com/2002/US/html/registry.html> and follow the directions. If you've had an ApacheCon account in the past, PLEASE RE-USE IT rather than creating a new one! If you're not sure, send a message to webmaster@ApacheCon.Com with your first and last name, and mention any guesses you might have about the email address you might have used in the past. Register with the hotel as soon as possible; space will sell out. Detailed instructions are displayed when you complete your registration, or you can see them at . Don't forget the ApacheCon open discussion list; see for more information. We look forward to seeing you in Las Vegas! - - The ApacheCon Planning Committee...
